Background of the Project:

The Aspire to Innovate (a2i) Programme builds on the Government of Bangladesh's efforts to introduce a citizen-centric culture of innovation in civil service to improve service delivery and make services more inclusive, affordable, reliable, and easier to access. This project will provide support to establish institutional mechanisms and improve accountability to accelerate SDG achievements in Bangladesh.

This project will have three components:

1. Institutionalizing Public Service Innovation and Improving Accountability
2. Catalysing Digital Financial Services and Fintech Innovations
3. Incubating Private Sector-enabled Public Service Innovation

Background of the assignment:

'Vision 2041', a newly introduced vision for the development of Bangladesh, focuses on attaining the status of a developed country by 2041. In this process of development, while making the country "Digital Bangladesh", a few challenges are found in the context of skills, education, employment, and entrepreneurship. To begin with, Bangladesh has a labour force of 82 million where 2 million youth joining the workforce every year with a projected labour force growth rate of 2.2% over the next 10 years (ILO, 2016). These youths are failing to get employed despite facing numerous job interviews because in most cases they are not rightly aware of which skills are required for various jobs. Secondly, although there are approximately 13,000 public and private skills service providers who are continuously offering skills training, they are not serving efficiently because their trainings are mostly supply-driven. Thirdly, most industries and employers cannot find the perfect skilled HR who can match their requirements despite investing a lot of time and resources in lengthy recruiting procedures. Fourthly, data-driven decision-making by the relevant Ministries and Govt. Departments become challenging at times because all their data are manually stored which is why it takes a lot of time to sort and analyse these data to reach a factual decision.

Henceforth, a2i Programme of the Government of Bangladesh and UNDP Bangladesh innovated a one-stop data platform- National Intelligence for Skills, Education, Employment and Entrepreneurship (NISE)- for working towards supporting all stakeholders to ensure effective data driven policy planning. This is actually a matchmaking platform aimed at ensuring balance between the supply side and demand side of skills, education, employment and entrepreneurship. The supply side stakeholders are 32 Governmental Departments under 23 relevant Ministries and as well as 13,000 Skills Service Providers. The demand side stakeholders are 42 Industry Associations/ Chamber of Commerce, thousands of Industries and Recruiting Agencies. The objective of NISE is to act as a connecting bridge to bring these stakeholders together under one umbrella so that they can fulfil the needs of one another and subsequently can make data driven decisions to stimulate industrial growth which will in turn pave the way for economic prosperity.

Thus, the Aspire to Innovate (a2i) Programme is looking for a Junior Consultant (Technology) to ensure essential operational and technical assistance in NISE's resistance-less implementation locally and globally. He/she will ensure that numerous technological goods and services are managed and executed smoothly.

Objectives of the assignment:

- Provide operational and technical support to the technology team to execute/ manage the activities of technical products.
- Assist to arrange different workshops and meetings.
- Assist to prepare notes, budgets and letters for different workshops and seminars.
- Supporting in implementation of a2i technological products and services in various Govt. agencies
- Maintain communication with different stakeholders for uninterrupted operational services.
- Prepare reports, presentations and infographics for decision making.

Supervision and Performance Evaluation:

The Jr. Consultants (Technology) will be working with the Technology team of Aspire to Innovate Programme. A performance evaluation will be conducted by Joint Project Director, a2i. After 12 months of the contract period and further continuation of the contract will depend upon the satisfactory performance and availability of funds.

Scope of work, Duties and Responsibilities:

- Supporting in conducting analysis of existing systems, processes, and data to identify areas for improvement and optimization
- Collaborating with stakeholders to gather and document functional and technical requirements for new systems or system enhancements.
- Contributing to the development of detailed system design specifications, including data models, workflow diagrams, and interface designs.
- Working closely with development teams to support the implementation of new systems or system changes.
- Assist in developing high-level diagrams for the development team including preparing reports, presentations, and infographics.
- Assisting in the planning and execution of system testing, including unit testing, integration testing, and user acceptance testing, to ensure the quality and reliability of systems.
- Supporting the creation of comprehensive documentation for systems, processes, and procedures to facilitate knowledge transfer and ongoing maintenance.
- Assisting in providing training and support to end-users to ensure they can effectively use the systems and tools in their daily operations.
- Identifying opportunities for ongoing system improvement and optimization under the guidance of the System Analyst.
